Waveland Upturn Increases Staff

H. J. Hughes, Project Administrator for the Waveland Operation Upturn office, today announced two additional staff appointments. "Community response to the program has necessitated enlarging the staff in order to expedite the flow of applications," Hughes stated.

A Waveland roller, William P. McCutcheon, joined the staff as Assistant Financial Advisor. The other appointment, Charleston Ladner, will coordinate the Plumbing, Heating and Gas Inspector.

"In the first month since we've been in operation," Hughes said, "we've had 102 interviews and initiated 70 applications for loans or grants. The inspection department has completed 42 residential inspections."

"I'd like to stress the point," he added, "the Operation Upturn program is open to everybody in the town of Waveland. The only stipulation is that the applicant be a resident of Waveland and own or be buying his property, and that a portion of the home is standing."

Anyone interested in further information about the program benefits may visit the Operation Upturn office in Town Hall for a free pamphlet explaining the operation.

Council Helps Area Schools

By unanimous vote at its regular meeting Monday the Bay St. Louis Commission Council agreed to give $1,000.00 each to four Bay St. Louis Schools, Christ Episcopal Day School, Our Lady Of The Gulf School, St. Rose De Lima and St. Stanislaus. The money will be taken from the "We Care" funds.

In response to the Council's advertisement for bids for a grader representative of three companies with bids were present for the opening of the bids. The Mississippi Road Supply Company of Jackson offered a bid of $29,997.00 less trade-in allowance of old grader.

Allied Equipment of Gulfport entered a bid of $31,783.00 less the trade in for the old grader.

Due to the variance of prices of additional equipment for graders offered by the bidders the Council took the bids under advisement for further study.

The registration books showed 355 voters registered during the first week of registration. This figure is approximately fifteen per cent of the electors within the municipality.

Work is scheduled to begin this week.

Bids Opened By Hospital Board

The Hancock General Hospital Board held its monthly meeting, Tuesday, April 21, in the Hospital Conference Room. Clifford Sauter, president of the Board, called the meeting to order and Kenneth Carson, secretary, opened the bids that had been received.

Three bids were received for an International Harvester Cub Cadet Model 124 with a 42 inch mower. Bidders and their bids on this equipment were: Henry Rothmann's Phillips 66 Truck Stop, Bay St. Louis - $1,040; Crosby Store, Inc., Piquette, Miss. - $1,050; Lutz Equipment Co., Gulfport, Miss. - $1,313.

A motion to accept the Rothmann bid was made by Rev. Charles Johnson and seconded by Herbert Ray Knight.

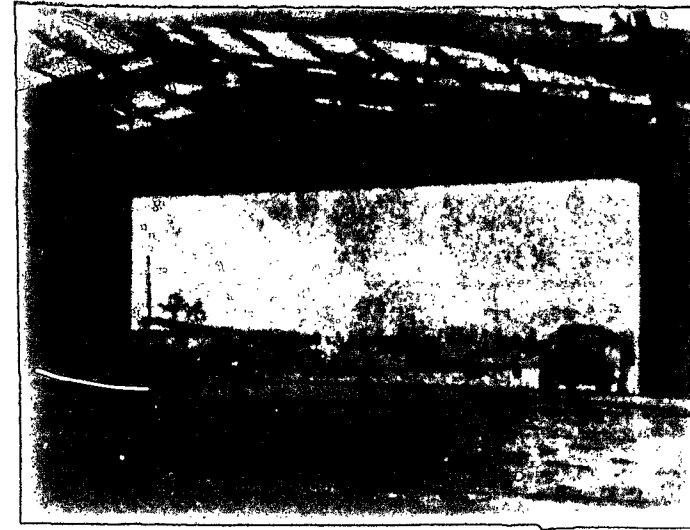

Only two bids were received for the plumbing contract for the emergency entrance that was damaged in Camille, La. - $4,000.00. The bids were: W. W. New Orleans, La. - $4,000.00 and Noel Vent submitted a bid of $3,500.00. A motion was made to accept the Noel Vent bid.

No bids were received on the mechanical work to be done. Johnson proposed to separate the work into sheet metal work and electrical work and redraft the bids for the work.

The treasurer's report was read and approved. The members voted to send a check to O'Neal Electric, Gulfport, for work done on the facilities.

The Board members discussed the possibility of contracting Hancock Bank to process the out-of-hospital payroll. This work would include W-8 Forms, Quarterly Reports and information of retirement reports. Edward Mouton made a motion to let the bank handle the work, and it was seconded by Johnson.

The members decided to advertise for bids on a commercial washer and dryer. The meeting was adjourned with prayer.

GENERAL VIEW of hangar building at Stennis Field looking from inside - out. Building was accepted last week by Port and Harbor Commission on behalf of county subject to usual "punch list" items. (Port & Harbor Comm. photograph.)

Gulf Central Airport - Stennis Field is to be formally opened at 1:30 p.m., Sunday, April 26, 1970.

Located on State Highway 803, just north of Interstate Highway 10, the airfield lies about nine miles northwest of Bay St. Louis and two miles south of Kiln, both measure-ments being as the crow flies.

Uniquely, the buildings of the field are on county owned lands but the actual runway is in the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Mississippi Test Facility buffer zone. The buffer zone, completely evacuated and declared unsuitable for human habitation due to the sound vibrations created by rocket component test firings, ideally lends itself to the purpose of airfield construction. Gulf Central's runway, now at 4,500 feet, is soon to be expanded further 4,000 feet, and taxi-ways and control tower added.

Already anticipating commercial demand, based on increasing interest and representation of recognized and forming carriers, the airfield's owners and operators, the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, are already taking bids on installation of a complete lighting system.

C. H. Hill, director, Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, has overall responsibility for executing the decisions of his board on airport development and administrative matters. Malcolm Seuzneau of Bay St. Louis, is airport manager, and Wylie Heath, Heath's Flying Service, is fixed base operator.

Members of the Port and Harbor Commission are, Donald Landry, president, Henry Wilson, vice president, Augustus Elmer, Jr., treasurer, John Seafide, secretary, Oliver Frierson, Louis Breaux and Haskell Doyle.

Members of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, who have overall jurisdiction of county industrial and aviation policy, are, Russell Elliott, president, Charles Russ, III, vice president, Joseph Cusvas, Alton Kellar, J. C. Maurfray.

With completed and hard surfaced access road and designated as a "general aviation" airport, the airport also is equipped with minor repair and maintenance facilities, fuel supplies, industrial sites, and full charter and training flying services.

Located in the coastal area of the Gulf of Mexico coastline, the airport has already attracted inquiries from out of country aviation interests and freight flying lines.

The idea for constructing the new flying facility originated more than a decade ago when the Hancock County Board of Supervisors began receiving complaints about the small field located outside Bay St. Louis.

Although county operated, the field lacked any improvements, was managed and maintained on more or less a voluntary basis, and was subject to flooding in adverse weather conditions.

After the arrival of NASA and after hearing their demands for better flying facilities to handle government personnel moving to and from the test site, the county supervisors asked the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission to improve out the advisability of constructing a new unit.

In October of 1965, the commission engaged Michael Baker, Jr., Inc. of Jackson, consulting engineers, to undertake the study and recommend a site for construction should the idea prove feasible.

The master plan of county airport development, as prepared by the Baker concern, was accepted in January of the following year.

Financed by a bond issue and aided by funding from the Federal Aviation Authority, the commission let bids for runway construction and ground-breaking ceremonies were staged on May 11, 1968.

In September of that year the county sold a further bond issue to finance additional construction work including the hangar building, access road, ditches and the like.

Bids Accepted By City Council

The Bay St. Louis City Council has voted to accept three bids for use in or by the city.

A bid by Standard Oil for gasoline, oil and other lubricants was approved by Mayor Warren Carver and Commissioner William Frisbie, and was turned down by Commissioner Andro Arceneaux.

The Roper Supply Company, Slidell, La., bid was accepted by all Council members. This bid was for street signs.

The last bid accepted was submitted by Lamar-Land Chevrolet Company, Bay St. Louis, for purchase of a city dump truck.

Building Better Chambers Topic At Membership Meeting

Thursday night a packed audience in possession of general membership of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce heard Dean Cotton, chamber manager of Brookhaven, Miss., discuss vital subjects needed for a chamber to become a functional unit.

Stressing the need and opportunities of a chamber, Cotton stated organization is foremost, stressing that the main purpose of a chamber is to create a better business climate and a better environment in which to do business.

Cotton stated that the chamber structure consisted of the following: Board of Directors, Executive Management and staff, and a variety of committees. Through the organizational structure, the committees and staff coordinate objectives, both short and long range with an effort to get this particular job done. According to Cotton, upon completion of this, a "PROGRAM OF WORKS" would have to be instituted to fully achieve the final results.

The meeting that was attended by approximately 60 members and interested persons, also was part of the program to build a better community, stated Rubie Griffin, Chamber President.

that was produced by the National Chamber of Commerce.

This first in a series of general membership meetings is vital, to a continued orientation program, to educate all chamber members of the vital activities to build a better community, stated Rubie Griffin, Chamber President.

Christ School Holds Annual Spring Festival

Stages set for the annual spring festival at Christ Episcopal Day School, which will be held Saturday, April 25, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., when the school presents a program of entertainment, featuring musical solos and dances characteristic of our country.

During the program, a variety of fairland assortment of games and entertainment for children will be open, while adults are invited to browse through the "Frontier Shops". The Sweet Shop promises a host of home-made specialties - cakes, candies, breads, cookies, pies, etc. Many gimmicks and gadgets, mostly used, but both useful and whimsical, are promised by the chairman of the White Elephant Booth, while the ladies in charge of "The World Today" booth have carefully selected a wide assortment of accessories for the home - all new and inspiring. Mrs. George Gray, chairman of the Handicrafts Booth, ecstatically announces "loads and loads" of outstanding wares for sale. And there are more -- books and records, on-the-spot photographs, a student art booth featuring some outstanding art by students of all ages.

The "box-top" posters on display in local stores this week are products of art students at Coast Episcopal High School, and are a part of a contest inspired by the Publicity Chairman, Mrs. William L. Braun. These posters will be returned to the school for judging at 4:00 p.m., Saturday -- another event of the Spring Festival.

Drawing for the winner of the gigantic "Treasure Chest" will take place following the announcement of the winners of the poster contest. At this time some person will be the recipient of a lovely Lane cedar chest, filled to overflowing with a host of wonderful gifts.

To round out the day, a delectable barbecued ham dinner will be served from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. -- to be eaten on the campus, or taken home on convenient carry-out plates.

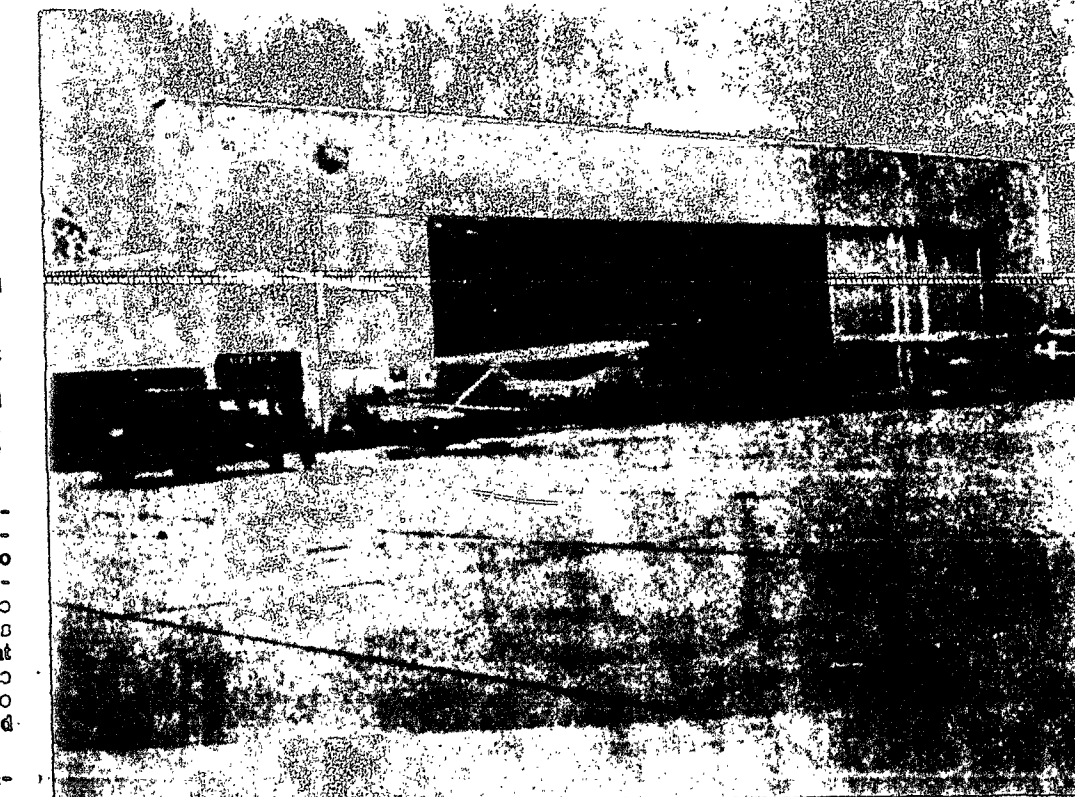

Good food, fun, and frolic -- the "Americana" way -- is promised for one and all. The public is cordially invited to join the students and friends of Christ Episcopal Day School to the afternoon and evening Saturday, April 25th, at 912 South Beach.

MTF To Test Two Boosters

A large Saturn space rocket booster destined to fly in early 1974 was static tested successfully last Thursday at the NASA-Mississippi Test Facility.

The 125 second test started at 8:14 p.m. Flaming exhaust plumes from the five engines were visible from several miles around the test site. The booster produces 7.5 million pounds of thrust.

A Saturn second stage, S-II-13, is scheduled to be tested at MTF April 30.

Playgrounds Near Final Phase

Bay St. Louis Parks and Recreation Commission, Robert Reighor, Project Administrator for Operation Upturn, stated that action toward the placement of three playgrounds is rapidly taking place.

One of the playgrounds, Washington Street between Hancock Street and Old Spanrail; Dunbar Avenue and Street and Main Street, is rapidly taking place. Playground equipment for the location is on order with delivery expected by 18. Equipment for each playground consist of the following:

1. A four-color heavy duty go-round of closed circuit type with a capacity of 12 children.

2. Recreation Climbing Gym double maze of climbs, 8 foot 6 inches, containing climbing squares 24 inches wide by 24 inches high and which will accommodate 40 to 50 children.

3. A Stationary Slide with a platform 8 foot high, steel hand rails, a 16-foot slide and 3 safety steps.

4. A series of four metal See Saws, 12 feet long with hardwood seats and safety hold-on bars.

5. Heavy type Swing Sets consisting of 6 series of swings with recreation bolt seats, and built-in safety features. One set of swings will be 8 foot high for smaller children and a set of 10 foot high swings for older children.

In addition to the above equipment a regulation size black topped basketball court with standard double recessed goal posts and fan shaped backboards will be placed at one of the playgrounds. If use of the court justifies courts may be added to the other playgrounds.

The Parks and Playgrounds Commission through their own personal efforts and those of cooperating organizations will install the equipment on these playgrounds as a civic gesture and at no cost to the city.

In speaking of the playgrounds Mayor Carver said, "I would like to see many playgrounds properly equipped in our city. The children need and want them. I will work to the best of my ability to do all I can to develop playgrounds for our children."

Helicopter Lands and Burns On I-10

Barclay H-19 helicopter landed on an emergency landing strip on Interstate 10 about five miles west of Highway 903, morning burst into fire and was completely consumed for the rotor blades to fall to the ground.

One of the rotors was damaged. The helicopter was owned by the J. & E. Service Co., owner of the helicopter.

Upon noticing the thump the pilot immediately put the rotor into auto rotation and began a descent and that fire broke out on the underside of the aircraft just before touchdown. Endorsed by Mayor Carver to extinguish the flames with the plane fire extinguisher were of no avail and forcing an ejection to the rotor blades in a ditch just before the helicopter. According to the pilot, the helicopter was on fire when he landed.

A plane flying overhead noticed the burning helicopter and notified the Highway Patrol. Patrol officers who responded to the call found the helicopter on fire and that there was between 100 and 175 gallons of gasoline in the tank.

MILK

Your milk must be kept free of pesticides. At the same time you must use pesticides and other chemicals around the barn - both on animals and crops - to control pests.

This is why you must use the utmost care to keep the pesticides out of milk. Here are some rules to follow that will help.

Use only recommended materials. Do not plant cotton near hay fields, corn fields or pastures. If possible on cotton that is near these forage areas, use only spray or methyl parathion as insecticides on the cotton.

Do not store pesticides in feed room, or milking rooms. Measure pesticides accurately and mix thoroughly. Apply pesticides carefully and observe waiting periods before grazing your cows. When buying any hay or corn, check on the pesticides used on these crops. Follow all label directions to the letter on all pesticides.

SOYBEAN PLANTING

It is still too early to plant soybeans. Lots of you may be tempted to plant beans early just because the weather has warmed up, but if you give in to the temptation and plant early, you may cut your yields 10 to 15 percent.

When planted too early the soybean plant may start blooming before it gets large enough to support good yields. When the plants start blooming, they make little more growth. This will give a plant that is too small to yield many beans.

Recommended planting dates are May 1 through June to in the northern half of the state. In the southern half, planting should be delayed until after May 1, in order to avoid the possibility of a major consideration. For good even stands, planting in moist soil is a must.

LAWN CARE

For that deep green color and good growth, your lawn needs fertilizer. Fertilizer applied about once a month makes the grass healthy, gives a good thick sod and helps control weeds. Actually 4 tons down on moving mow as much of what is mown to weeds.

When mowing the lawn, never remove more than one-third of the grass leaf area, or mow frequently and avoid this. Recommended mowing heights for bermuda grass and cynodon grass is three-fourths to one-half inch high. For St. Augustine and centropogon grass, mow one-half to two-thirds of an inch. If grass is growing in the shade, mow a little higher.

When watering established lawns apply water as infrequently as possible and do a thorough job of soaking the ground. For new lawns, the surface should be kept moist at all times.

Plan a thorough weed control program, using herbicides to edge the lawns around sidewalks, driveways and flower beds.

Letters to the editor

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:

I would like to say it's great how "the silent majority" are beginning to speak up and out on various issues. I wonder, however, when, if ever indeed, the silent majority will arouse themselves and get to work on the most important issues, "the real nitty-gritty" so to speak. Every serious-thinking, mature adult individual needs to get back to God, The Bible, and on their knees in much fervent prayer to God for His help in combating Communism. Let us forget Communism is anti-God and anti-freedom, and this growing evil menace is about to strangle every American. I took the time recently to drive to William Carey College, Hattiesburg to a Crusade.

I heard a young minister who is working for "God's Cause" with the young people in the cesspools of sin in New York City. This proved out to be immensely enlightening. A N.Y. C. theater showing of a very curious (Yellow) has a huge sign over the box office saying "no one under 18 admitted" so the management puts a monitor on the sidewalk, showing the filthiest parts over and over, corrupting the youth on the sidewalks of N.Y.C. Please ponder: Is the management of that theater Christian or of the forces of Communism and anti-Christ (anti-Christian)? Doesn't this prove Vice-Prosa, Agnus was absolutely correct when he stated over nationwide TV that the American Press does not FULLY inform us, the American people?

All Americans must now take an active stand and fight the evils. Let us forget, The Communist-A n t i - Christian forces have "the youth of the world" for their "Top Priority". They're out to totally corrupt all the youth of the world and to ultimately destroy them along with everything else. We will please the Communists 100% if we continue as we've been doing "nothing", then they can just calmly take over. They do not want multitudes to pray and fast and wholeheartedly call upon God for His Mercy and help. We all must unite with Christ for His righteousness in our land. We all must be "Christ's Ambassadors."

Yours truly,

Resolution

Whereas, Mayor Warren Carver of Bay St. Louis appeared before the Board of Directors of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, and announced a program of cleanup for the city of Bay St. Louis, now, therefore, be it resolved that the city administration of the city of Bay St. Louis be commended for a campaign of CLEAN-UP.

Be it further resolved that all of the citizens be, and they are hereby encouraged to support the efforts of the city both in their personal conduct and attitudes.

Be it further resolved that public officials, both municipal and county erect signs giving notice of penal ordinances and statutes relating to throwing of litter, and that such ordinances and statutes be vigorously enforced without fear or favor.

Be it further resolved that it is the belief of the Board of Directors of the Chamber, that filth and unsightly conditions, are detrimental to the good morals, health and growth of Hancock County, therefore all citizens in the name of decency, are urged to lend their personal efforts towards cleanliness, and help make Hancock County a more attractive community.

Hancock County Chamber of Commerce

A Conservative View

by James J. Kilpatrick

Still on the road, this time at Emory and Henry College, a small but exceedingly respectable institution once closely tied to the Methodist Church, tucked away in the rugged hills of Southwest Virginia. It was the last place on earth you might have expected to see Leslie Fiedler, but there he was.

Fiedler is the novelist, literary critic, and English professor who recently was backed, as the saying goes, for permitting some young people to smoke marijuana in his household at Buffalo, N. Y. He was convicted on the charge about ten days ago, and came to Emory and Henry while on bond awaiting a pre-sentence report.

Meeting him here, in the midst of this pastoral innocence, one thought of Eve when she looked up and saw the subtle serpent. We had gathered for another of the spring symposiums that so many college students are organizing, to please themselves and to lift the trustees.

Emory's program embraced six speakers and, to my knowledge, had the close of the day was the most beautiful Fiedler. He came on stage, no plume and jewelry to the first little play, and the name of the speaker it was just the best of it.

Fiedler's (Emersonian) universality of the future. He means the immediate future. A cultural revolution to contemporary campus, he said, led by a new breed of young men and women. These are the consequences of the book and looking of fresh tomorrow's day, and call them what you please—hippies, yuppies, freaks or "muckers"—they are leading the way toward institutions of higher learning utterly different from the universities of today.

In the frolicsome academic groves of the future, the concept of "tutoring" will be abandoned; the student, unaided, will become a place. "In which young men and women each others, and the young are made for the old." Students will not take courses to prepare themselves for law, medicine, or engineering; they will major, in effect, in love, and their goal will be to cultivate a life style in which men realize, in their minds and hearts, between children.

In the absence of formal academic discipline, Fiedler's scholars will read anything they please—comic books, fairy tales, Turgenev stories, slinky they will love, boy-girl, boy-boy, girl-girl. They will be about in costumes of artificial beauty of imaginary Indian, all beads and boots and headbands, and they will read their sacred texts, among them the macrobiotic cookbook.

Once free of these arduous labors, and cleansed of "vestigial Puritan catkins," the new mutants will go into society—but not, mind you, to go to work. There will be no work in the conventional sense, for men will be tended by machines. To be sure, if a medically minded lad wanted to pick up some extra money, he might perform an operation or two, but this is irrelevant. The new breed will have learned in college "to free themselves for pleasure," and they will teach us all to stay young and never grow old.

Well, sir, you may think this was a mischievous put-on, but not so. When Fiedler says that colleges must convert to this new religion, he is quite serious. And when one contemplates the new permissiveness in rules and curriculum at Berkeley, Harvard, Bryn Mawr and elsewhere, it may be later than you think.

But I am square. I am eclectic, and find the real world better than make-believe. What degree do they offer at Berkeley—Bachelor of the Bay? The banyan grove, I am told, has lost all faculty of intellectuality, and occupies the world in most fresh every morning. But the world is no longer, not yet at least, and hence must build on the past.

In the hedonistic world of Leslie Fiedler, we are to design the marvelous machine? Comic-book madmen? Whence comes the capital to build them? It is fun to play young in heart, but one might reasonably seek a surgeon old in experience. While the new mutants are lolling about, loving one another, who minds the store?

These are fuddy-duddy questions, I know, and the new breed doubtless regard them as a bore. But they are questions that one day must be met by the Jacobins of this cultural revolution, and they will find no answers in the macrobiotic cookbook.

Parsonage For Two Churches

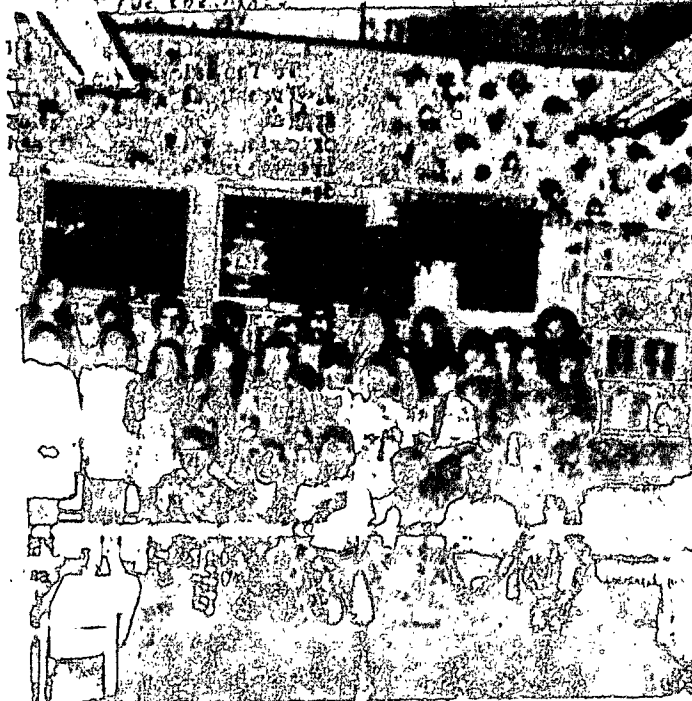

The Waveland and Clermont Harbor Methodist Churches have purchased a dwelling at 234 Pine Ridge Road for use as a parsonage. One pastor, the Reverend Harold H. Ryker serves both churches. An open house will be held at the parsonage soon.
By selling remains of the parsonage at Clermont Harbor and the lot on which it stood, with insurance claims settled and funds from the Bishops Hurricane Camille Fund which was raised especially for Methodist Churches on the Coast, both churches have been able to obtain the parsonage purchased without the two churches incurring any indebtedness.

Lieutenant Governor To Deliver Keynote Address

Honorable Charles E. B. ... will deliver the keynote address at the formal opening of the Gulf Central Airport - Stennis Field, Sunday, April 26, at 1:30 p.m., on the field on State Highway 603 at Interstate Highway 10, Hancock County, Miss. It was announced by C. H. Hill, director, County Port and Harbor Commission.

Following the governor's address, Russell Elliott, president, Hancock County Board of Supervisors, will speak on the "County's Role in Aviation."

Clayton R. A. d, internationally known humorist, author, after dinner speaker and publisher, will be principal guest speaker.

Rock Basketball Star

Be Honored At Dedication

During his high school days at Hancock North Central, Ladd played under the direction and guidance of Coach Roland Ladd. Frequently named "Most Valuable Player" in tournament play, Ladd was named to the All-State team for three consecutive years.

Holding the scoring and rebound record for Hancock North Central's Hawks, the young player received offers from over 100 colleges when he was in his senior year.

Coach Ladd, on hearing of the contract with the New Orleans Buccaneers, said of Wendell, "This is the most valuable boy I have ever coached."

"A coach is lucky if he gets one player like this in a lifetime; a boy who is strong, big, and quick."

"Wendell is a true All-American athlete. In high school he averaged 34 points per game and 28 rebounds. He is definitely something quite rare."

Recording Star To Head Entertainment

Capitol recording artist and top country music singer Susan Raye, will head the entertainment bill at the formal opening of Gulf Central Airport - Stennis Field, 1:30 p.m., Sunday, April 26, at the field on State Highway 603 at Interstate Highway 10, Hancock County, Miss.

Backing up Miss Raye's vocal efforts will be B. J. Johnson and his "Chubby Buddies" of Piquette, Miss. B. J., a well liked and lively country music instrumentalist, has made many guest appearances on various television and radio shows including the Grand Ole Opry, Show 68 of Nashville, Tenn. He now devotes most of his time to production of a lively country music show for Radio Station WJW, Piquette.

Emcee for the afternoon will be Romeo Sullivan of Radio Station WYMI in Biloxi, a recording and country music star in his own right.

Susan Raye was seventeen before she paid much attention to the twangy guitars and the happy-mournful sounds and songs of country music. Now, only a few years later, she is a recognized country artist with a recording career and a Capitol recording contract.

Born in Eugene, Oregon, in 1944 Susan had early ambitions of being a professional singer, although she did join a rock trio during her senior year in high school. The group disbanded, unimpaired, before Susan had graduated.

Several months later, Susan's mother told her about an audition for a country singer on state radio. In Forest Grove, Ore., all town near Portland, Oregon, where Susan was raised, a familiar act could be seen. But interested in the possibility of a career in radio, Susan sought some guidance and auditioned some songs.

For the next year Susan paid a weekly $4.00 fee, doing a live radio program in the morning and singing as a disc jockey in the afternoon. As her reputation grew, she started working as a night and day disc jockey in a regular show on a local television show.

After the tour Susan remained in Portland, continuing her television and personal appearances. But in 1968 she signed a contract with Buck and moved to Bakersfield, I wanted to fully understand today's country music and to improve my own performance. In Bakersfield, I will be able to do this."

A year later, in September 1969, Susan released her first Capitol single, MAYBE IF I CLOSE MY EYES, under the management and guidance of Buck. She has since released the hit country version of PUT A LITTLE LOVE IN YOUR HEART and a duet with Buck Owens, WE'LL GONNA GET TOGETHER.

Now a permanent member of the Buck Owens All AMF - RICKS show, Susan is also a regular guest on Buck's national television program, THE HAW. She has appeared on Las Vegas shows with Buck and as a solo artist and she has played in many nightclubs. Under his guidance she continues to study and develop music and artistic talents. Think you can't afford an Olds? Here are two reasons to think again!

Our own surveys indicate that quite a few people think an Olds costs a lot more than it really does. Result? Many people buy an ordinary car and end up with a lot less car and value for their money.
It's so unnecessary, too, because Oldsmobile has many models that are priced right down with so-called low-priced cars. See your Olds dealer. He'll prove that you're closer to Olds than you think.

Cutlass S: The sporty Olds—priced right down with the low-priced names. Included as standard equipment: Recessed windows. Hidden antenna. Deluxe steering wheel. Wall-to-wall carpeting. Door side-guard beams. Flo-Thru Ventilation. Rockol V-8. Black-painted trim. Foam-padded seats.
Delta 88: The big Olds—with the surprisingly modest price. Included in the price: Power steering. Power front disc brakes. Regular gas. 32-valve V-8. 12-disc wheelbase for a car of this size. All the room and comfort and luxury you could ever want.

Lamar-Lane Receives Details On New Cars

The management of Lamar-Lane Chev., have just returned from New Orleans where they received first details on the new Chevrolet small car to be introduced into this summer.

Lamar-Smith expressed enthusiasm for the new car -- currently codenamed XP-807.

"The new little Chevrolet is an exciting and positive answer to the demonstrated need for a small, economical, durable, safe, comfortable and well-styled car built in America to American tastes," he said.

Also attending the day long meeting from Lamar-Lane were: Lamar Smith, John Gallagher, Emmitt Rye and Ray Acosta.

"Chevrolet invited the full management team of four dealerships to the meeting so we can get a fast start on preparations to give maximum sales, service and parts assistance to every customer the day the new little car goes on sale," Lamar Smith said.

The Chevrolet dealer said the "little car that does everything well" will come in a full line of four different 2-door models, all with front bucket seats as standard equipment.

Offered will be a four-passenger sedan, a four-passenger hatchback coupe with a fast back roof line, a four-passenger station wagon and a one-passenger panel delivery truck.

Typical of the technological innovations in the new car is its all-new light weight overhead cam engine. The four-cylinder engine has a new precision die cast aluminum cylinder block and has a husky 141 cubic inch displacement.

Chevrolet says the engine delivers a maximum combination of low pollutant emission, fuel economy and performance. Its light weight contributes to the car's overall stability and ease of handling. Its torque output gives excellent performance both on open highways and in traffic, while allowing an optional fuel economy.

The engine develops 90 horsepower. There also is a 110 horsepower version.

Market potential for the new car was also discussed at the meeting attended by the Chevrolet colorado management. American interest in the "small car concept" is bigger than ever, Chevrolet researchers reported.

"The range of potential buyers is far greater than characteristics of strictly small car buyers," they told the dealers. "We found interest in this type of car among people of all ages in a variety of income levels, in rural as well as metropolitan areas in every part of the country."

The study also showed that current foreign car owners are not projected against a small car built in this country if it offers more features and value than the car they own. Over 80 percent said they would consider buying a domestic small car.

By using the most advanced tools and manufacturing techniques, plus an employee motivational program to stimulate top workmanship, the new car "is intended to be one of the highest quality cars ever built in this country," Chevrolet told the dealers.
